This is how you print out just the first page:

- Open the PDF file.
- Click on the printer icon.
- Under "Pages to Print" click "Pages"
- Then type "1" in the white space to the right

- Write your family's name in the blank "label" running across the picture of the canning jar

FOOD LABELS

Print the Food Labels (the 3rd page of this PDF file) on cardstock.

This is how you print just that page:

- Open the PDF file.
- Click on the printer icon.
- Under "Pages to Print" click "Pages"
- Then type "3" in the white space to the right & click "Print"
- Cut between the canning jars the short way to create 4 strips.
- Fold the strip in half so the canning jar image is on the "outside"
- Fold the bottom of each of the strips up 1" toward the "inside" to create "flaps"
- Overlap the two flaps to create a "bottom" for your label
- Staple, tape, or glue the flaps together to allow the label to stand

RECIPE PAGES

Print the Recipe Pages (the 2nd page of this PDF file) on quality white paper (so you can't see through the pages).

This is how to print out just that 2nd page:

- Open the PDF file.
- Click on the printer icon.
- Under "Pages to Print" click "Pages"
- Then type "2" in the white space to the right
- Click on "Copies" and type the number of pages you want to print, click "Print"
- Bring the pages to the family reunion and allow family members to write their recipes at the reunion. Bring the pages home and have them photocopied (front and back).
- Fold pages in half, insert into cover, staple down the center 3X, using a long stapler (usually available for public use at office supply stores)
- Mail them to family members or hand out next year.

Alternatively, prior to the reunion, send each member one recipe page to write their recipe on. Have them send it back to you. You can then cut and paste them into a booklet form. Tape two to a page and then have it photocopied front and back.

Then, follow instructions above from "Fold pages in half..."
